Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Finances of the City of New York The Finances Of the Empire City Of New York and those Of the Empire Republic Of China have many points of resemblance. For instance, the method of budget-making in New York City, some six years ago, was very similar to the method used in China under the monarchy, which consisted in granting budgetary appropriations in lump sums, without any definite and clear segregation according to functions and Objects Of expenditure. Again, the debt Of New York City. Has been allowed to grow to its present size of over a billion dollars, without any attempt on the part Of the city Officials, until recently, to keep it in check by introducing scientific methods Of administration, just as the national debt Of China has been permitted to grow to its present size without any attempt on the part Of the Chinese officials to check its growth. In the following monograph I have attempted to make a close study Of the various phases of the financial transactions Of the City Of New York, as reflected in the of actual cash receipts and the of actual cash payments in 1913, and to explain how New York City is now financially maintained. Such a study serves to make clear the means by which the city has passed or is passing out Of a financial chaos into a financial system, and affords a valuable lesson for China's benefit. Many Of the scientific methods adopted by New York City in reforming her finances have been adopted by other cities in the United States for reforming theirs. Even the United...
