The Messengers is a short story about a man's retreat to the countryside. Davis attended Lehigh University and Johns Hopkins University, but was asked to leave both due to neglecting his studies in favour of socialising. During the Second Boer War in South Africa, Davis was a leading correspondent of the conflict. He saw the war first-hand from both parties' perspectives and documented it in his publication With Both Armies (1900). He wrote widely from locations such as the Caribbean, Central America, and even from the perspective of the Japanese forces during the Russo-Japanese War. Davis died following a heart attack on 11th April, 1916, at the age of 51.
