Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Our Foreign Relations At least one thousand ladies were in the audience, among whom Mrs. Lincoln was an attractive and conspicuous personage. The wives and daughters of many of New York s wealthiest and worthiest citizens, by their presence and enthusiasm evinced the deep interest they felt in the occasion, the speaker, and the theme discussed. David Dudley Field, Esq., who had. been selected by the Committee as Chairman of the meeting, introduced Mr. Sumner to the audience in the following words: - Remarks Of Mr. Field. Ladies And Gentlemen: - At no former period in the history of the country, has the condition of its foreign relations been so important and so critical as it is at this moment. In what agony of mortal struggle this nation has passed the last two years, we all know. A rebellion of unparalleled extent, of indescribable enormity, without any justifiable cause, without even a decent pretext, stimulated by the bad passions which a barbarous institution had originated, and encouraged by expected and promised aid from false men among ourselves, has filled the land with desolation and mourning. During this struggle it has been our misfortune to encounter the evil disposition of the two nations of Western Europe, with which we are most closely associated by ties of blood, common history, and mutual commerce. Perhaps I ought to have said, the evil disposition of the Governments rather than of the Nations, for in France the people have no voice, and we know only the imperial will and policy, while in England the masses have no powers, the House of Commons being elected by a fraction of the...
