HYDROGEN-BONDED CAPSULES: MOLECULAR BEHAVIOR IN SMALL SPACES (HARDBACK)

World Scientific Publishing Co Pte Ltd, Singapore, 2015. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English. Brand New Book. This monograph describes the behavior of molecules confined to small spaces. The small spaces are created by the self-assembly of modules into hollow capsular structures through hydrogen bonding; capsules assembled by metal/ligand binding or other forces are not included. Topics discussed include how assembly of capsules occurs, how molecules get in and out of the capsules, new spatial arrangements (stereochemistry) created in the...
