M., Sometime Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford, Vol. 3 of 7: Third American Complete and Standard Edition, Form the Latest London Edition, With the Last Corrections of the Author 1. It was in pursuance of an advice given by Bishop Taylor, in his Rules for Holy Living and Dying, that, about fifteen years ago, I began to take a more exact account than I had done before, of the manner wherein I spent my time, writing down how I had employed every hour. This I continued to do, wherever I was, till the time of my leaving England. The variety of scenes which I then passed through, induced me to transcribe, from time to time, the more material parts of my diary, adding here and there such little reflections as occurred to my mind. Of this journal thus occasionally compiled, the following is a short extract: It not being my design to relate all those particulars, which I wrote for my own use only; and which would answer no valuable end to others, however important they were to me. 2. Indeed I had no design or desire to trouble the world with any of my little affairs: As cannot but appear to every impartial mind, from my having been so long as one that heareth not; notwithstanding the loud and frequent calls I have had to answer for myself. Neither should I have done it now, had not Captain William s affidavit, published as soon as he had left England, laid an obligation upon me, to do what in me lies, in obedience to that command of...
