Excerpt from The Marketing and Transportation Situation, Vol. 13: August 1943 The reason the capacity of the trucks to handle livestock shows less deer than the number of trucks in Operation is that trucking service is more efficient now than it was a year ago. Pickup service improved, cross-hauling has decreased and trucks are more fully loaded. Efficiency in Operation of livestock trucks is expected to improve further this fall, both as a result of voluntary arrangement among farmers and truckers, and by organized attempts in local communities. 4 livestock truck conservation program in which farmers, truckers, local transportation committees, extension workers, market agencies, packers and others interested in efficient transportation of livestock was announced August 24 by the Office of Defense Transportation. It is probable that many farm trucks and those operated. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
