

Practicality of Stakeholder Participation in the Local Government Budgeting System in Zambia

By Stephen Gumboh

GRIN Verlag Sep 2013, 2013. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 210x148x3 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Research paper from the year 2012 in the subject Politics - International Politics - Region: Africa, grade: A, Atlantic International University (School of Business and Economics), course: Government Budgeting, language: English, abstract: The paper focuses on the extent of stakeholder participation in budget making process at the local government. In the context of the study, the term stakeholder mean persons, institutions, organizations and groups of people who have direct or indirect interest in the budgeting process at any or all levels of the governance's structure and activities thereof. The paper provides an analysis on the practicality of stakeholder participation or simply participatory budgeting in the local government system in Zambia using Kabwe Municipal Council as case study. An analysis of the challenges that the Government at the level of local government faces in its quest to incorporate participatory budgeting at the local level is also presented. The direction of the paper focuses mainly on the general assessment of the conditions for effective participatory budgeting and its impact on the stakeholder community. Kabwe Municipal Council was ideally suitable...

READ ONLINE
[6.26 MB]

Reviews

The most effective pdf i ever go through. It is probably the most incredible book i have got study. You wont sense monotony at at any time of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you check with me).

-- Ahmad Heaney

This ebook is amazing. It can be rally interesting throgh looking at time. You may like how the author compose this ebook.

-- Nikko Bashirian