Teams of odd jobbers can be organized to serve at regular periods or to be on call for emergencies. HELP OTHER COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS Assistance of the same sort can be given to other worthy organizations, such as local charities and war service committees. In one town where the day nurseries were badly overcrowded, the school boys made fifty cradles from material donated by a business man, and the girls made clothes for the children. Older girls and boys have assisted in the weighing and measuring tests conducted by the Children s Bureau and the Council of National Defense. Since environment is an important factor in determining efficiency and character, it is to the interest of every citizen that his community be kept clean, safe, beautiful, and socially healthy. Every one must take part in this work. City boards of health and other officials may take the lead, but they cannot achieve the desired results without the help of the community. A definite part in this responsibility will give the children a valuable lesson in civics and help them to form the habit of citizenship. MAKE YOUR TOWN CLEAN Conservation of Waste A clean town usually means a healthful town. The collection of waste materials will rid the community of many dump heaps, and many dust-catching piles in cellars and attics. (Directions for handling the collection and sale of waste will be found on p. 284.) Swat-the-fly Flies and mosquitoes are germ carriers. They have their...
