PRESIDENT VAUGHAN S WELCOME In opening the afternoon exercises, President Vaughan said that there were always many disappointments in life and the day s program was not without them. He spoke feelingly of the absence of Congressman Gillett and of his recent accident. Mr. Vaughan then introduced Councillor Richard W. Irwin of Northampton, who delivered the oration of the day. Mr. Irwin proved to be a delightful speaker, intermingling humor and lofty references to New England character, and showing his versatility in many ways throughout the address. He said he brought congratulations direct from Gov. Bates who, had not another engagement interfered, would have been present at the anniversary. Mr. Irwin humorously spoke of his college classmate, E. H. Vaughan, and said he had always understood that New Salem was a very healthy place, that none but visitors ever died, and he sincerely hoped he would not be numbered among the missing at the close of the day s exercises. The American, said the speaker, is a composite of all nations; he came from no one individually. The freedom and blessings we are now enjoying came to us through hardships and privations suffered by our forefathers. Right here in New Salem the early settlers endured much, the fruits of which the present day residents are enjoying. The public mind is influenced by argument slowly, by event quickly. It was the event of the Boston massacre that influenced the public mind, already aflame, to...
