

Souvenir of the History, Development and Future of Portland Cement (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By International Portland Cement Company

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Souvenir of the History, Development and Future of Portland Cement Smeaton was a celebrated English engineer, who discovered that a certain limestone containing a percentage of clay produced, on calcining, a cement which he termed Improved Hydraulic Lime. Zealous in his purpose Smeaton risked his reputation as an engineer, and showed his faith in his material by building with it the famous Eddystone Lighthouse, the foundations of which stand to-day as a monument not only to the excellence of his cement, but to his ability and courage as an engineer. Tire work was completed in 1759, and has withstood the fiercest storms for a century and a half unharmed to the present time. It was with this discovery that the real history of modern cement manufacture commenced. A third of a century later a Mr Parker, of Loaduri, patented a process for manufacturing Roman cement that produced a product about the grade of the present American natural cements Several other patents were taken out previous to 1813, when a French professor at Paris discovered the fundamental chemical action...
