Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Consequences of Trade, as to the Wealth and Strength of Any Nation: Of the Woollen Trade in Particular, and the Superiority of It Over All Other Branches of Trade; The Present State of It in England and France, With an Account of Our Loss, and Their Gains Ruin. Under this dreadful Apprehension, but too, well grounded, I do most earnestly beseech your Lordships to examine particularly into the State of the Woollen Trade, and to employ your Wisdom in finding out some effectual Method to recover it. Very certain I am, that unless you do, his Majesty will not long continue to be our King, nor we continue to be a Free People. We shall unavoidably fall a Sacrifice to the Ambition of France; and our Defiance will as necessarily be followed by that of Europe. I do humbly conceive that the Scheme which Mr. Webb has offered to the Publick will prove an effectual one, and that the Charter which his Majesty was pleased to grant him, will be highly beneficial to the Nation. He has clearly convinced my Judgment, and I will make as little doubt but that he will easily convince your Lordships, whenever he shall be honoured with an Opportunity to explain himself. But, be that as it will, this melancholy Truth I must repeat to your Lordships; unless the Exportation of our Wool be stopped by some Means or another, the Nation must be ruined; and I most heartily beg of God to direct your Counsels to the best Measures for our Preservation.
