

By Judith Lutge-Coullie

Wits University Press, South Africa, 2006. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . This book usually ship within 10-15 business days and we will endeavor to dispatch orders quicker than this where possible. Brand New Book. The experiences of women from all race groups, classes, and political persuasions are brought to life in this compelling collection of extracts. Living in close proximity but often in vastly different realities, South African women were, in many ways, Close Strangers to each other, and their relationships were marked by both intimacy and alienation. This selection of writings draws on a large number of autobiographical texts by both ordinary and extraordinary women such as Sarah Raal, Emily Hobhouse, Pauline Smith, Phyllis Ntantala, Dr. Goonam, Katie Makanya, Pauline Podbrey, Norma Kitson, Bertha Solomon, Winnie Madikizela-Mandela, Helen Joseph, Ruth First, Helen Suzman, Bessie Head, Mamphela Ramphele, Selestina Ngubane, Emma Mashinini, Marike de Klerk, Antjie Krog, Charlene Smith, and Maria Ndlovu. Together, these texts demonstrate the courage and strength of spirit with which South African women responded to personal and political circumstances in the twentieth century. As individuals, we saw we were all caught up in apartheid's far-reaching tentacles. White women could not escape the privilege which...

READ ONLINE
[1.67 MB]

This composed pdf is excellent. We have go through and that i am certain that i am going to likely to read again once more down the road. I am just happy to explain how this is basically the very best publication i have go through within my own daily life and can be he best publication for actually.

-- Anika Kertzmann

It in a single of the most popular ebook. It really is simplified but excitement in the fifty percent from the pdf It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Joy Langosh