Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Animation Movie Based on the Book In 2016! The robot was evolving. Thanks to the nano chip, his brain was the basis for his emotions, behavior, actions, decisions and attitude. The last frontier. Mr. Pole, Kikii and Xica, stood side by side peering through the glass panel. They were at the Technosis Robot Testing Center. Xica activates a button. The robot leaps from a height of 30 meters. Kikii feels a surge of pride as she looks at the gorgeous robot flailing through the air. As TE10 nears the ground he senses he needs to land. He changes his center of gravity and is poised to hit the ground. TE10 hits the ground. Cushioned by a micro film lubricant it feels like falling on a slice of cheese. So soft. So smooth. In a flash the robot takes up a Garv Marga martial arts pose. Ready to defend. And to attack. Xica looks at Red Kikii and she acknowledges his smile. The robot is ready. For action. Vacuum suction pores for grip, telescopic vision for sight, neuro-sensory system for thought and action, tenso-expansible system for space, magnets for grip, hydraulics for strength, color system for camouflage, bullet proof to protect the brain chip, chip for intelligence, memory for knowledge and a face for human expression. She looks up. Tink licks her. And yelps. Hooo hoo hoo. Trying to make a crooning sound. Tink. Kikii says in a voice that seemed like she was crying rather than talking. You know how they are treating me. I reckoned kids will be naughty and will forget after sometime. The teasing will stop.
