Commerce promotes the intercourse of nations, who thus learn from and influence one another; the competition of commerce stimulates intellectual activity, fosters enterprise, promotes exploration and colonising, produces wealth, and thus adds to the resources of a nation, and supplies the fund from which the revenue is replenished, and literature, art, and science are supported. Commerce is thus a most important factor in civilisation. The progress of civilisation is a topic with which history deals, and therefore commerce as one of the factors of civilisation plays an important part in history.
