Teaching in the Fourth Industrial Revolution: Standing at the Precipice (Hardback)

By Armand Doucet, Jelmer Evers, Elisa Speckman Guerra

Taylor Francis Ltd, United Kingdom, 2018. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. In this visionary book, written by six internationally recognized Global Teacher Prize finalists, the authors create a positive and hope-filled template for the future of education. They address the hard moral, ethical and pedagogical questions facing education today so that progress can serve society, rather than destroying it from within our classrooms. This blueprint for education finally brings forward what has always been missing in education reform: a strong collective narrative with authentic examples from teachers on the front line. It is a holistic, personalized approach to education that harnesses the disruptions of the Fourth Industrial Revolution to better shape the future for the next generation, and ensure that every child can benefit from the ongoing transformations. A great read for anyone who has an interest in educating our youth for these uncertain times, highlighting why teachers will always matter.

Reviews

The very best book i at any time read. It generally does not price an excessive amount of I discovered this publication from my dad and i recommended this book to understand.
