Outskirts Press, United States, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This is a must read for families, educators, legislatures, taxpayers, and all voters. Never before has there been a condensed research book on what makes up an effective part of education today and by a teacher. Over a quarter of a million teachers threatened to losing their jobs, hundreds of thousands of children ending up failing in life, and no one addressing the real honest issues of what is really going on. If teachers aren t teaching, and if students aren t learning then we need to find out the real reasons why. This research taken from experts in the field and real classroom examples without any affiliations or influences to withhold the truth will reveal issues at hand. Education in the United States is unique from any other country and recognizing our advantages will help us achieve the ratings needed to excel in the world of global success. Effective and actual data revealing the truths behind the secrets of the classroom doors will give us the information needed to make wise expert decisions resulting in meeting our expectations. Who s in Charge is a beginning of revealing basic knowledge about education. This reading will unite and allow us to be on the same page so that when educational issues are discussed, bills are created, votes are needed, government systems set standards and the school systems implement these requirements we will understand the impact they have on the educational system: A system that affects the future of our country in insurmountable ways. This is a must read for families, educators, legislatures, taxpayers, and all voters.
