Excerpt: . district of virginia, To wit. be it remembered, that on the thirtieth day of May, in the forty-sixth year of the Independence of the United States of America, John B. Hoge, of the said district, hath deposited in this office the title of a book, the right whereof he claims as proprietor, in the words following, to wit: Sermons selected from the manuscripts of the late Moses Hoge, D. D. By which, He being dead, yet ipeaketh. Heb. n. 4. In conformity to the act of the Congress of the United States, entitled, An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of maps, charts, and books, to the authors and proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned. rd. jeffries, Clerk of the District of Virginia. preface. During his life, Dr. Hoge was often solicited by his friends, to favour the public with a volume of Sermons. Jn his view, however, insuperable obstacles opposed themselves to a measure, the usefulness of which, few persons that knew him, were so ready to question as himself. The hope which was entertained that among his manuscripts, a number might be found prepared by himself for publication after his death, has not been realized. A careful examination of his papers containing materials for several volumes, has yielded the result of only a single discourse composed with the view of being presented to the public. The original manuscripts which have furnished matter for the...
