Excerpt from The Unpartizan Review, Vol. 14: July December 1920 At other times we have alternately worked and rowed in boats on a Scotch loch or along the Sussex shore. In Scotland we once played at fishing from a boat; but Spencer quickly tired of catching perch, which bit too freely and came in too tamely to afford sport for one accustomed to salmon. I remember that here he took out his pocket knife to give the wriggling fish its coup de grace, and he looked disgusted while doing it The gaff promptly ended the struggles of the salmon I saw him hook; and doubtless his sportsman s instinct was thus gratified without painfully violating his humanitarian impulses.
