Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Welcoming the hungry, the thirsty, the stranger, the naked, the sick, the prisoner, the leper, the paralytic, the gay, the lesbian, the condemned, the excluded and even sinners is the best language Christians can speak to win the trust of others if we are to change the world. We, Christians must show everyone this hospitality. We must welcome even those who do not think as we do, who do not have faith or have lost it. Welcoming the persecuted, the marginalized, the condemned and excluded, the unemployed, the different cultures helps us not to turn our backs on the other person, God, and our community. The attitude of welcoming helps to broaden our Christian horizon in order to have a decisive direction. Today, there are too many wars and conflicts in the world, so many divisions in our families, so many gossip in our communities because majority of us fail to listen, to show hospitality and welcome other who do not have the faith we have or think as we do. Instead, we condemn and exclude them as sinner, people of no moral credentials. It is because we are quick to criticize and condemn, instead of listening, forgetting that the we cannot win the trust of other or change the world by arguments and condemnation, but by learning how to welcome and listen to the other person. In fact, as far as I am concern the case of homosexuality, same-sex marriage is not a reality, but a product of socio-political solidarity. A culture that feels threatened by the authenticity of Christendom. Victims of this sickness sincerely in their hearts are very much aware that they are tied down by solidarity of..
