Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The War in Europe: Being a Retrospect of Wars and Treaties, Showing the Remote and Recent Causes and Objects of a Dynastic War, in Connection With the Balance of Power in Europe The aspect of European affairs at the present time is of moral and material significance to all the world. In a progressive age like this in which we live, when mind and matter quiver under daily impulses of knowledge and science, all civilization must be affected, more or less, by a struggle for empire between two hostile powers like France and Austria. Many questions and consequences are involved in the conflict of dynasties - various speculations are ventured concerning results to ensue - and numberless hopes and fears hang trembling on the poise of expectation, both in Europe and our own land. The war now devastating Italy may be regarded as a game of tremendous hazard, whereon the Old and New World have stakes of vast consequence to their future weal or woe. If a feeling of national interest is shared by American as well as foreign states, it is, likewise, equally felt by our adopted and native citizens. German, French, Italian and other continental people, who constitute so large a portion of our communities, have indeed the force of former associations and ties of kindred to connect them personally with actors and localities of the contest; but American-born patriots are not behind in recognizing the crisis to be one peculiarly worthy of their consideration as members of a democratic confederation. It lacks just a lustrum of half a century since the Peace of Europe was said to be definitively settled by the...
