Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Address Before the Alpha Delta Phi Society, of Miami University, on the Study of the Classics You have called me to address your association on the interesting occasion of its first anniversary. I most gratefully acknowledge the honor of your confidence: I only regret that my ability to serve you is so much less than my desires, and that the duties of this occasion should have fallen upon one who can bring to their discharge little else than good intentions. In casting about for a topic which might profitably occupy your attention for a few moments, I could not but reflect that the institution of which it is your good fortune to be members, is one erected on the most liberal foundation, and conducted by abilities every way equal to the task - an institution for which the country has done much, and from which she expects much in return. Neither could I forget that here, in these halls, sacred to learning and education, there stood not long since, one, who advocated an innovation upon the liberal course of instruction adopted, so far as to exclude from that course the necessity of Classical learning. We all remember with what ability, with what learning, with what candor, with what earnest and fervid eloquence, he poured out on his favorite subject the riches of a mind, every movement of which showed how largely it was indebted to the very studies which it could so ably and eloquently oppose. Most grateful would it be to my feelings, to pause here; and drop a humble tribute to the memory of the scholar, the orator, the philanthropist, the christian...
