

1965: The Most Revolutionary Year in Music (Hardback)

By Andrew Grant Jackson

St Martin's Press, United States, 2015. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. 50 years ago, the friendly rivalry between musicians and turned 1965 into the most ground-breaking year in music history ever. It was the year rock and roll evolved into the premier art form of its time and accelerated the drive for personal freedom throughout the Western world. The feedback loop between the artists and their times ignited an unprecedented explosion of creativity. The Beatles made their first artistic statement with Rubber Soul and performed at Shea Stadium, the first rock concert to be held in a major American stadium. Bob Dylan released Like a Rolling Stone - the quintessential anthem of the year - and went electric at the Newport Folk Festival. The Rolling Stones hit song Satisfaction catapulted the band to worldwide success. Fashion designer Mary Quant raised the hemlines of her skirts to above the knee, introducing the iconic miniskirt. This was not only the year of rock as new genres such as funk and psychedelia were born. Soul music became a prime force of desegregation as Motown crossed out of the RB charts on to the top of the Billboard Top...
