Excerpt from Clean Air Act Amendments: Hearing Before the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations of the Committee on Commerce, House of Representatives, One Hundred Fourth Congress, First Session One is that we will delay the date of 2001 unless two things happen, either thing happens. One is that there is an economically viable alternative, a cost-effective alternative available, or that the Montreal Protocol bans it for everyone in the world. When we go through the debate, I remember over trade there is always the issue that free trade is fine as long as it is fair. And that is the whole key on this issue, the question is fairness in this. If we ban it and Mexico doesn't, that is not fair in my books and so that, to me, is one of the issues about having a level playing field in this banning methyl bromide. Jim is one of the many farmers, these are not big corporate farms, in my district. They are successful farmers who have been doing it for years, but they are having a very difficult...
