

Genetically Modified Foods Questions and Answers (Paperback)

By Carlton Stewart

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . This book was written from the viewpoint of a Consumer Advocate, to satisfy an identified need for answers to basic questions on genetically modified foods, which prior to this, has not been available in this format to Consumers. The Reader will not see or be challenged by chemical formulae or any unnecessary scientific terminologies. The book provides concise easily read answers to relevant questions, whilst pointing to areas in which positive action from Governance is urged, and others where the reader might, if so desire, engage in deeper research. The writer is not anti-science, but is insistent that products and services should be rigidly safety assessed and properly labeled before it is introduced into the environment for consumption of animals and human beings. This effort also attempts to inform and motivate Consumers on the need to be informed and conscious in making buying decisions and to the realization that we are all a part of God s Creation. Carlton Stewart is a graduate in Management from the University of the West Indies and has a Certificate in Marketing from the College...
