Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Alabama Girls Technical Institute Bulletin, 1913, Vol. 26: Agriculture for Secondary Schools I. As To The Teacher. The teaching of agriculture in the Secondary Schools is beset by the same obstacles and handicaps which confront it in the Elementary Schools, though possibly not to such a degree. Probably the greatest obstacle in the way of teaching the subject is the teacher, - or rather the teachers point of view. The teacher too often fails to realize the possibilities of the subject; is not imbued with the proper enthusiasm and so is inclined to discredit the importance of it. The teacher must realize in the beginning that if any value is to come from the teaching of agriculture that the proper point of view toward the subject must be secured. The crying need for intelligence on the subject must be felt, the increasing demand on the part of our people for knowledge on the subject must be recognized. Our inborn Southern antipathy for anything that smacks of the soil must be obliterated. In short we must approach the subject as...
