The Comeback Kids, Book 3, the California Brown Pelican (Paperback)

By Penelope Dyan

Bellissima Publishing, 2008. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The California brown pelican (P.o. californicus) is a subspecies of the widely distributed brown pelican and is the smallest of all the pelicans in the pelican family. The California brown pelican breeds along the Gulf of California from the Sinaloa and Nayarit coast of Mexico, along the Pacific coast of Baja California, and north to the California Channel Islands. Non-breeding pelicans can be seen along the Pacific coast all the way to the up to the state of Washington and British Columbia. There were huge California brown pelican losses from about 1940 to 1970. The species was listed as endangered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in 1970 and a year later, it was enlisted as endangered by the California Fish and Game Commission. The California brown pelican is a fully protected species under California Fish and Game Code, Section 3511. Delisting of the species as endangered is finally being considered, and this would be a happy announcement for those of us who love this fascinating bird. So how did the California brown pelican become endangered? It became endangered primarily as a...
