Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Legend of the Trailing Arbutus There is a beautiful legend connected with the dainty trailing arbutus, which runs as follows: The arbutus, most delicate and fragrant of all our wild flowers, was created as a climbing vine to cover Eve's bower in the Garden of Eden. She tended and watered the lovely plant, and learned to love it above all other flowers in the Garden. After the fall and banishment of our first parents from Paradise, the arbutus vine became so lonely and missed Eve so greatly that it crept down from its bower and trailed through the Garden and out into the world in search of her who loved it. It is still seeking her through woods and waste places in a search that never ends, and each springtime sends forth the delicate fragrance of its pink and white blossoms to tell of its faithfulness.
