This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who statte that there had not been a worth looking at. You wont really feel monotony at at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).

L. W. L LIFE: DECEMBER, 1920 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (HARDBACK)

Forgotten Books, 2017. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from L. W. L Life: December, 1920 Under the guidance of Captain Stolz and First Mate Charlie Knipe, we covered the first lap of our four year trip. My, how many hardships we inexperienced sailors did meet with. Going thru the Straits of Algebra many of our members took sick and twelve died. Continuing on our voyage, we reached the Freshman Reception Isles and, being very shy of the natives of 18, we did not enjoy ourselves as we should have. Reaching the small port of August, Captain Stolz and First Mate Knipe were relieved of duty. Captain Cahill succeeded to the important position of steering our ship thru the troubled waters. The good ship covered many miles of her course, keeping excellent pace with others of her kind. Going toward December, an awful storm befell us. For many days and nights the ship was tossed about by the angry ocean and then - a wreck on the English Isles. This cost us sixteen members of our crew. We then put in at the port December and rested at the Holidays. The remaining forty-seven members of the crew, under the leadership of Captain Crowley, continued the voyage. How certain we felt. We were Sophs of the sea. Each sailor had his place on the good ship Christmas 20 and he did his best so that she would finish with a good record. Our next stop was at Interclass Isles where the men of the various ships, and held a rendezvous in the different activities. The winners would uphold the honors of the feet on lick-wilmerding against those of other seas. You should have seen the first-class athletes the Christmas, 20 carried. In all...
