

Planning and Civic Comment, Vol. 16: March, 1950 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Harlean James

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Planning and Civic Comment, Vol. 16: March, 1950 The Dinosaur National Monument which is now threatened by the proposed Split Mountain and Echo Park dams, is unique in that it not only preserves a quarry where dinosaur remains have been found, but it includes an area of spectacular interest where, with interpretive guidance, visitors may see on a grand scale the geomorphic processes characteristic of the Grand Canyon region, by which a superimposed river has cut through Split Mountain and a whole series of mountains. Here the observer may form a concept of the age-old processes that have shaped the great spectacular features of the Colorado River, including the Grand Canyon. As an educational exhibit of natural forces the area cannot be duplicated. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
