Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . You have been a great traveller, Mercury? I have seen the world. Ah, a wondrous spectacle. I long to travel. The same thing over again. Little novelty and much change. I am wearied with exertion, and if I could get a pension would retire. And yet travel brings wisdom. It cures us of care. Seeing much we feel little, and learn how very petty are all those great affairs which cost us such anxiety. Ixion in Heaven. The charm of Asia-A return to old friends-Desert news-The Palmyrene colony at Damascus-New horses and camels-Mrs. Digby and her husband Mijuel the Mizrab-A blood feud-Abd el-Kader s life-Midhat Pasha discourses on canals and tramways-He fails to raise a loan. Damascus, Dec. 6, 1878.-It is strange how gloomy thoughts vanish as one sets foot in Asia. Only yesterday we were still tossing on the sea of European thought, with its political anxieties, its social miseries and its restless aspirations, the heritage of the unquiet race of Japhet-and now we seem to have ridden into still water, where we can rest and forget and be thankful. The charm of the East is the absence of intellectual life there, the freedom one s mind gets from anxiety in looking forward or pain in looking back. Nobody here thinks of the past or the future, only of the present; and till the day of one s death comes, I suppose the present will always be endurable. Then it has done us good to meet old friends, friends all demonstratively pleased to see us. At the coach office when we got down, we found a little band of dependants waiting our arrival-first of all Mohammed ibn Aruk,...
